» High tech's popping up in every color of the rainbow

The latest spec for your tech is more bright than byte, more rainbow than RAM, and definitely more about jewel tones than ring tones. Which means you've got one more way to make your digital doohickeys yours, all yours. From apple-green ear buds to very berry laptop covers, it's like seventh grade all over again—only your color-coded gear is way cooler than a Trapper Keeper. We rounded up the full spectrum of new ways to get juiced. Power up.

» Juscht for Fun

We love the fact that personal electronics have gotten so, well, personal. These removable vinyl "asterisk" laptop stickers by LapSchticks make all that cavernous memory and addictive speed feel...kinda cute. (from $20, schticks.com)

1 | Flip Top

What's cooler: the Dell Inspiron 1420's integrated mobile broadband option (it can connect your laptop anywhere your cell phone can take you) or shades like ruby red, midnight blue, and flamingo pink? Don't answer that. (from $699, dell.com) Colors available:

2 | Byte Me

We're gonna need some backup here. Kingston Technology's kicky DataTraveler Mini Fun lets you transfer data by way of USB ports if you want to, say, bring home all those pie charts from the office and work on them after Gossip Girl. (from $10, shop.kingston.com)

3 | Double Click

In your never-ending battle against desktop clutter, think how visually appealing a Kingston wireless mouse would be. There's just one question: Would orange or green look better with your bobblehead collection? (from $35, kingston.com)

4 | Slim Shade-y

Quite respectable pixel-to-price ratio: The Kodak Easy Share M853 provides clear shots that can be blown up to prints as big as 30 by 40 inches (scary!) for not too much dough. ($150, kodak.com)

5 | Technicolor

Now that tiny digital cameras have also become tiny digital recorders, the Casio EX-Z77 takes things a step further by letting you upload your boyfriend-imitating-Jackass videos to YouTube in three easy steps, thanks to preloaded software. ($200, staples.com)

6 | Sporty Spice

Stylish (but do you have it in saffron?) and sturdy, too. It's nearly impossible to damage your Olympus Stylus 790SW—not when you mountain bike (it can take a 5-foot drop), swim (you can shoot underwater), or snowboard (it'll survive at 14 degrees way longer than you will). ($300, olympus-america.com for info)

7 | Berry Best

Talk about bang for your buck: The GE E1040 compact digital has a full 10 megapixels, two types of zooms, a user-friendly interface, and a red-eye reduction feature. ($250, amazon.com)

» Steady Now

I'd never noticed that tripods were so rigid and upright. Or at least that's how they seem compared with the bendy, lightweight Joby Gorillapod. It's designed to provide the perfect shot while wrapped around a tree branch or perched on a jagged rock. ($25, joby.com)

Shown with the slim, stylish Fujifilm FinePix Z10fd with bonus movie mode that records sound as well. (from $150, amazon.com)
